

SOIL SCIENCE EXPLORE BOXES IMPACT REPORT 2021

To celebrate National Soil Conservation Week, Nutrients for Life assembled soil science boxes with hands-on activities that brought soil science to life in Canadian classrooms. This initiative reached 62 classrooms from Alberta to Nova Scotia. This program impacted over 1,550 students.

"I am super excited to see the results of others and have my students do some real world science!"

"I can't thank you enough for this resource for teachers and students! What a blessing this is."

NFL staff developed a "Story Map" so all participating schools could enter their soil testing data, and compare their results. Our friends at Farmers Edge also did a full nutrient analysis of the soils provided in the boxes for further investigation by the students.

"Oh my goodness! This kit is AMAZING!"

"It will fit into our agriculture program"
